fuel is very similar to diesel fuel, and in some cases, may be burned in diesel engines. The possibility of environmental legislation banning the use of leaded avgas, and the lack of a replacement fuel with similar performance, has left aircraft designers and pilot's organizations searching for alternative engines for use in small aircraft., History. The first known use of fuel was the combustion of wood or sticks by Homo erectus nearly two million years ago. [page needed] Throughout most of human history fuels derived from plants or animal fat were only used by humans., Learn how emissions reductions, advancements in fuels and fuel economy, and working with industry to find solutions to air pollution problems benefit human and
