Introduction. Birth weight is a widely recognized predictor of short and long-term health outcomes. Among other adverse birth outcomes, low birth weight (LBW, <2,500 g) remains a serious public health issue. In 2015, 8.1% of births were LBW with its associated comorbidities, such as subnormal growth and neurodevelopmental complications (Hack et al., 1995).,

Carrots and Sticks Donâ€™t Work decries motivation based around financial incentives, considering these programs brittle and temporary. Instead, author Marciano suggests that people are most motivated when they feel respected by their organization and feel respect for their work., During the past two decades, employee engagement became a very popular managerial construct.

Organisations use different engagement building tools in order to stay competitive and improve performance. Though there is an increasing contribution in human resource consulting agencies on the concept of employee engagement, yet there is a shortage of academic studies on that construct, especially ..., The performance of a certain MWF is influenced by factors such as the type of manufacturing process, the working material, and the tool. Oil-based MWFs e.g. are especially used in processes which require efficient lubrication whereas water-based MWFs are applied when the dissipation of heat is more important than lubrication., A composting toilet is a type of toilet that treats human excreta by a biological process called composting.This process leads to the decomposition of organic matter and turns human excreta into compost. It is carried out by microorganisms (mainly bacteria and fungi) under controlled aerobic conditions. Most composting toilets use no water for flushing and are therefore "dry toilets"., Customer success is at the heart of everything we do at Splunk - from empowering data-driven business
