refers to the physical space on which production takes place, as well as the natural resources found under it or on it, such as oil, iron, coal, and lumber. Anything produced in the economy comes, ultimately, from some combination of these resources. Think about

Part I ..., The marginal propensity to save (MPS) is the fraction of an increase in income that is not spent on an increase in consumption. That is, the marginal propensity to save is the proportion of each additional dollar of household income that is used for saving. It is the slope of the line plotting saving against income. For example, if a household earns one extra dollar, and the
